Junee Prime Lamb Child Labour Policy

Every child has the right to a healthy and safe environment with access to education, play and recreation, an adequate standard of living, and protection from abuse and harm. Junee Prime lamb takes a Zero Tolerance approach to child labour in any area of its operations or supply chain and does not tolerate children being exposed to any risk at its sites or services.

Junee Prime Lamb recognises that not all work done by children should be classified as child labour. This includes activities such as helping their parents around the home, assisting in a family business, or earning pocket money outside school hours and during school holidays. When the appropriate protections are put in place, these kinds of activities contribute at children's development and to the welfare of their families, providing skills and experience for adult life.

Child labour may be:

- ❖ Work that is mentally, physically, socially, or morally dangerous and harmful
- ❖ Work that fails to take into account compulsory schooling.
- ❖ Work that requires children to combine school attendance with excessively and / or long and heavy work.

The worst forms of child labour involve enslavement, separation of children from their families and exposure to hazardous conditions.

It is widely reported and accepted that child labour in the workforce exploits children and interferes with a child's education, schooling, and their long-term development, depriving them of their childhood.
